Re hits fresh record low of Rs 91.14 against dollar

MUMBAI: The rupee slumped to a fresh record low of 91.14 against the US dollar on Tuesday, after weakening by 36 paise in afternoon trade. Pressured by sustained foreign institutional investor outflows and lingering uncertainty over a potential India-US trade deal, this marked the fourth consecutive session in which the rupee has touched a new all-time low. The currency has now depreciated about 1% over the past five trading sessions alone. In afternoon dealings, the rupee was quoted at 91.14 per dollar, extending its losses from the previous close amid continued pressure from global and domestic factors. Full report: P11

CHIEF Minister Nara Chandrababu Naidu on Tuesday accused the YSR Congress Party (YSRCP) of attempting to mislead the Union government over the establishment of medical colleges under the Public-Private Partnership (PPP) model amid the Opposition party's intensified protests against the policy.

Speaking informally to media persons at the NTR Bhavan, the Chief Minister said YSRCP Members of Parliament had taken their objections to Parliament and had even sought to project the PPP model in 'distorted manner' before Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman. According to Naidu, the Union Minister firmly rejected what he described as an attempt to misrepresent the policy framework.

EduCity which would be developed by GMR Group in 130-acre of site provided by the MANSAS Trust, would serve as a national capability platform to address the acute global and domestic shortage of aviation professionals, place India as a leading supplier of aviation talent and build the country's next-generation aviation workforce.

IPL AUCTION Uncapped players strike gold!

ABU DHABI

KOLKATA Knight Riders (KKR) splurged a record-breaking Rs 25.20 crore to land top Australian all-rounder Cameron Green and Rs 18 crore to acquire the services of Sri Lankan pacer Matheesha Pathirana in the Indian Premier League players' auction here on Tuesday.

Uncapped Indian players were also a big hit with Uttar Pradesh's 20-year-old left-arm spinner Prashant Veer going to Chennai Super Kings for Rs 14.20 crore. He became the highest paid uncapped player in the history of IPL auction after coming in at a base price of Rs 30 lakh. Jammu and

CSK splurge Rs 14.2cr each on Prashant & Kartik

Kashmir pacer Auqib Nabi Dar also attracted a hefty sum of Rs 8.40 crore from Delhi Capitals to be among the top gainers in the mini auction. Dar's base price was also Rs 30 lakh. Indian stars Prithvi Shaw and Sarfaraz Khan, however, went unsold in the auction despite their good run of form with the bat.

Green surpassed compatriot Mitchell Starc (Rs 24.75 crore) to become the most expensive overseas player at an IPL auction. This was after Kolkata Knight Riders and Chennai Super Kings were involved in an intense bidding war for him before the latter emerged winner.

KKR also went after Venkatesh Iyer before pulling out of the race against Royal Challengers Bengaluru, who got the India all-rounder for Rs 7 crore. The three-time champions then entered the fray to buy Pathirana after Delhi Capitals and Lucknow Super Giants withdrew following an intense bidding war between the two franchises.

Entering the auction at a base price of Rs 2 crore, Pathirana became the most expensive Sri Lankan sold in an IPL auction. As far as Green is concerned, his salary for the season would still be Rs 18 crore (USD 1.9 million) as the rest of the amount will go towards the BCCI's player development programme as per the rules of the auction for foreign players.

Pathirana will get the full amount as it falls within the salary cap. Green, who previously turned up for Mumbai Indians and Royal Challengers Bengaluru, has so far played 29 matches in the IPL to aggregate 707 runs and take 16 wickets. Shaw, however, went unsold despite his fine run of form in the domestic circuit lately, and so was the case with Sarfaraz, who smashed a 22-ball 73 in a Syed Mushtaq Ali Trophy match for Mumbai on Tuesday. Big-hitting South African batter David Miller, whose base price was also Rs 2 crore, went unsold in the auction.

ENERGY minister Gottipati Ravi Kumar said that former Prime Minister Atal Bihari Vajpayee earned the rare distinction of being an 'Ajata Shatru' (Man without enemies) in Indian politics, respected across party lines. He was speaking on Tuesday when the Atal Sandesh—Modi Suparipalana Yatra reached Bapatla.

The minister, along with ministers Anagani Sathya Prasad and Kolu Subbarao, and BJP state president P V N Madhav, unveiled the bronze statue of Vajpayee. Addressing the gathering, Ravi Kumar described Vajpayee as a loved son of Bharat Mata who rendered unparalleled service to the nation. He recalled that Vajpayee was elected nine times to the Lok Sabha and twice to the Rajya Sabha and served as Prime Minister on three occasions. Even after losing the Prime Minister's post by a single vote, Vajpayee stepped down with dignity, setting a high benchmark for democratic values and winning the hearts of millions of Indians. Ravi Kumar said Vajpayee firmly believed strong infrastructure was the key to rapid national development.

With this vision, he launched the Golden Quadrilateral Project, transforming road connectivity across the country from Kashmir to Kanyakumari. He noted that nearly eight lakh km of rural roads and about 5,000 km of national highways were developed during that period, laying a strong foundation for India's growth. Vajpayee, he said, always placed national interest above political considerations and also united 23 political parties, besides playing a key role in making Dr. A.P.J. Abdul Kalam the President of India.

The minister said Prime Minister Narendra Modi, inspired by Vajpayee's ideals and vision, is carrying forward the journey of national development with renewed momentum.

He pointed out that initiatives such as Vande Bharat trains reflect this commitment, especially in modernising the railway sector. Ravi Kumar expressed happiness that participating in the unveiling of Vajpayee's bronze statue was a proud and unforgettable moment in his life. Leaders of alliance parties and other dignitaries attended the programme.

Road repairs to be fast-tracked in state

- R&B minister Janardhan Reddy says R&B department has stepped up measures to fast-track road repairs and development following CM's order to accelerate works
- Single bids to be accepted in road tenders to avoid delays
- Explains move is aimed at speedy execution of road projects without procedural hurdles

HANS NEWS SERVICE
VIJAYAWADA

STATE roads and buildings, investments and infrastructure minister B C Janardhan Reddy on Tuesday said that the coalition government is undertaking road repair works across the state on a war footing to provide better infrastructure to the public.

In a statement on Tuesday, the minister said that under the leadership of Chief Minister N Chandrababu Naidu, the government's primary objective is to complete road development works expeditiously and ensure smooth vehicular movement.

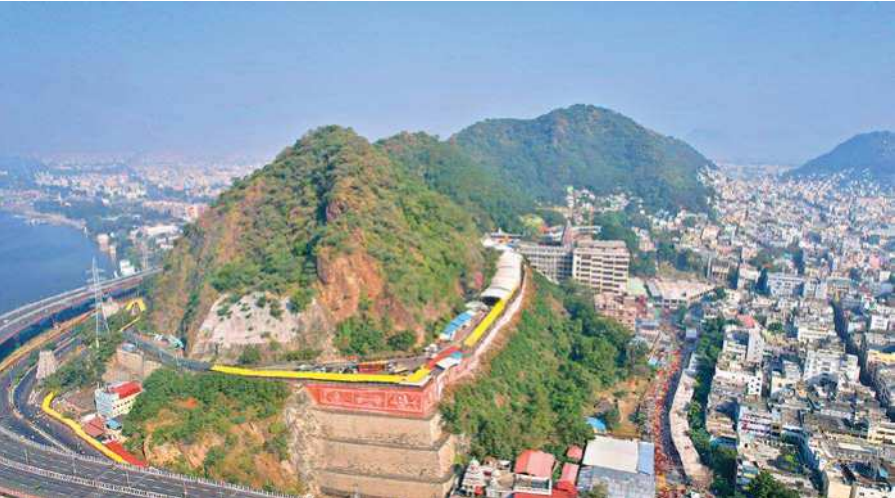

As part of this effort, the roads and buildings (R&B) department has taken a key policy decision to accelerate the execution of road works and eliminate avoidable procedural delays. The minister explained that during the tendering process for road development contracts, it is common for only a single bid to be received. Until now, such tenders were routinely recalled, leading to repeated invitations, submission of fresh bids, evaluation, finalisation and execution of agreements—a process that often consumed more than 45 days.

Due to these delays, road works failed to commence on time, forcing people to endure damaged and unsafe roads for extended periods. To address this issue and prioritise public convenience, the R&B department has decided to accept and process tenders even if only a single bid is received at the first instance, without recalling the tender.

The minister said this is the first such decision taken by the department with the clear aim of speeding up road repairs and development works. By finalising tenders without unnecessary repetition, works can begin immediately, preventing avoidable delays and ensuring timely completion of projects. He added that the decision would help deliver better-quality roads to the public within a shorter time frame, improve road safety and facilitate smoother travel across the state. The coalition government, he reiterated, is committed to providing pothole-free roads and strengthening infrastructure to support overall development.

sanitation and beautification works along the ghat road over the past 15 days. Continuous efforts were made over the last two weeks to clear unwanted plants and thoroughly clean the stretch.

Beyond sanitation, the border area has now been painted with attractive colours, improving visibility and adding aesthetic value to the ghat road. Speaking on the occasion, EO Seena Naik said the works were undertaken to complement the spiritual experience of devotees with a clean and refreshing environment. He appreciated the dedication of engineering officials and staff in giving the ghat road a renewed and vibrant look. The transformed stretch is now drawing praise from devotees.

Jagan demands CBI probe into Joji Nagar demolition

HANS NEWS SERVICE

FORMER Chief Minister and YSRCP President YS Jagan Mohan Reddy demanded a CBI inquiry into the Joji Nagar demolition, stating that the houses were razed with heavy police presence despite the case being pending before the Supreme Court and residents having relief till December 31. He stated that fake documents were created during Chandrababu Naidu's earlier tenure, a bogus society was registered with a back date in 2016, and litigation was deliberately manufactured to hand over prime land to private players.

Speaking to the media here on Tuesday, YS Jagan Mohan Reddy expressed solidarity with the affected families and assured them of full legal support. He said all those involved in the illegal demolition would be brought to book and asserted that only a CBI inquiry can expose the truth and the behind-the-scenes operations. Naming Chandrababu Naidu, Nara Lokesh, the local MP and a Jana Sena corporator, he said they were responsible for the demolition of houses belonging to 42 families residing on 2.17 acres of land valued at Rs 150 crore. He pointed out that the residents had obtained all necessary permissions and were regularly paying EMIs on loans, yet their homes were demolished due to the greed of those in high places siding with private interests.

YS Jagan questioned how permissions were granted in the first place if the residents allegedly did not own the land, calling it a gross misuse of power. He said the affected families had been living there legally for over 25 years and reiterated that the demolition was carried out in complete violation of judicial relief. He alleged that encroaching land through fabricated litigation has become a pattern across the state, with TDP leaders and cadres actively identifying disputed lands, creating legal disputes, and grabbing valuable properties. YS Jagan assured the Joji Nagar residents that once the YSRCP comes back to power, the issue will be resolved and all those responsible for the demolition will be held accountable.

Digital arrest scam busted

BHIMAVARAM

IN a significant breakthrough against a nationwide cyber fraud network, the Bhimavaram I Town Police in West Godavari district have busted a major "digital arrest" scam and issued a stern public warning against the growing menace of "mule accounts." Police cautioned that selling or renting personal bank accounts is a serious criminal offence, punishable with imprisonment of up to ten years under the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita. As part of the investigation, police arrested Pritam Dharmendra Mourya (21), identified as the prime accused (A-1) in a large-scale cybercrime operation. The case came to light following a complaint by an elderly couple from Bhimavaram, both aged over 70, who were allegedly subjected to prolonged psychological harassment and defrauded of nearly ₹99 lakh over several months. According to the police, the accused confessed to acting as a "money mule" operator. He allegedly procured SIM cards and opened bank accounts through encrypted Telegram channels on behalf of operators running cyber scam compounds. These accounts were used to receive and launder money extorted from unsuspecting victims across the country.

In the Bhimavaram case, Rs 12 lakh from the victims' savings was transferred to a Kotak Mahindra Bank account that had been activated just a day earlier. Police recovered Rs 8 lakh from the personal account of the accused during the course of the investigation. Explaining the modus operandi, police said the fraudsters impersonated bank officials and law enforcement authorities, placing the elderly victims under constant video surveillance and threatening them with dire consequences, including life imprisonment for their children. The accused also showed fake Supreme Court arrest warrants to intimidate the victims. This method, commonly referred to as a "digital arrest," has caused severe financial and emotional distress to families across the country, with some victims reportedly losing amounts running into crores of rupees.

Police officials noted that such scams rely heavily on networks of "money mules" who knowingly or unknowingly provide their bank accounts to criminals, enabling them to receive stolen funds anonymously.

The police reiterated that individuals involved in supplying bank accounts to fraudsters will be treated as equal partners in crime. Several arrests have been made nationwide under Sections 316(5), 317, 318(4) and 61(2) of the BNS, which pertain to organised crime, cheating and criminal conspiracy. Officials warned that the lure of easy commissions ranging from Rs 2,000 to Rs 10,000 often results in long-term legal consequences and imprisonment. Advising the public to remain vigilant, the police urged citizens not to share bank account details or linked SIM cards with anyone, to reject offers of easy money, and to verify any calls claiming to be from authorities. Police stressed that genuine law enforcement agencies do not demand secrecy, threaten arrest over phone calls, or ask for money transfers for verification purposes.

TIRUMALA Tirupati Devasthanams (TTD) Trust Board has taken an important decision to improve facilities for devotees by approving the construction of an integrated township near Alipiri in Tirupati. The project will come up on 20 acres and will serve as a base camp to meet the growing accommodation needs of devotees.

The decision was taken at the TTD Board meeting held in Tirumala on Tuesday under the chairmanship of B R Naidu. The board approved town planning proposals and the appointment of an architect. Executive Officer AK Singhal, Additional EO Ch Venkaiah Chowdary, JEO V Veerabrahmam and other members attended the meeting.

major junctions in Tirumala after figures associated with Lord Venkateswara, Vaishnava traditions, the Alwars and Annamacharya.

An expert committee has been formed to finalise the names. A separate wing will be created for the protection and conservation of ancient and heritage structures in Tirumala and along the footpaths, with experienced officers to oversee the work.

The board cleared a plan to grow sacred and divine trees over 100 acres at Palamaner to supply wood for temple chariots and flagpoles. An additional Rs 48 crore was sanctioned to strengthen advanced medical facilities at the Sri Padmavathi Children's Heart Centre in Tirupati.

Based on recommendations of the Education Sub-Committee, the board approved the introduction of digital classrooms, CCTV cameras, computers, software and staff in 31 TTD-run educational institutions. A new comprehensive policy for the construction and management of donor cottages will also be introduced.

For Sri Siddheswara Swamy temple at Talakona, Rs 14.10 crore was sanctioned for the second phase of renovation works, in addition to Rs 4 crore approved earlier. Hostel accommodation at Sri Padmavathi Women's Degree College in Tirupati will be expanded by adding 270 seats to the existing strength of 2,100.

STATING that the aquaculture sector has become a key pillar of Andhra Pradesh's economy, minister for agriculture and fisheries K Atchannaidu said the coalition government is extending full support for the development of aquaculture with the prime objective of increasing farmers' income.

The minister was the chief guest at the oath-taking ceremony of the governing body members of the Andhra Pradesh State Aquaculture Development Authority, held at the fisheries department office at Penamaluru near here on Tuesday.

Addressing the gathering, Atchannaidu said the prevailing conditions in the global market and the tariffs imposed by US President Donald Trump have impacted aquaculture farmers. He added that the state government is taking measures in coordination with the Central government to overcome these challenges.

He stressed the need for extensive promotion of the quality and credibility of Andhra Pradesh shrimp across the country and globally. Chief Minister N. THE state government on Tuesday issued orders removing the upper age limit for children for availing Child Care Leave (CCL) by government employees, permitting eligible employees to utilise the leave facility at any time during their service up to retirement.

The finance department issued the orders with immediate effect, extending the benefit to women employees as well as single male employees, including unmarried, widower and divorcee employees, subject to existing eligibility conditions. The revised policy also covers children with disabilities.

As per the orders, Child Care Leave may be availed for child rearing, attending to children's health needs, or caring for them during school or college examinations, illness and other related requirements.

The government recalled that it had initially permitted women employees to avail Child Care Leave for a maximum period of 60 days during their entire service. This entitlement was later enhanced to 180 days, to be availed in a maximum of three spells. Subsequently, the facility was extended to single male employees on similar terms.

In a further revision, the government increased the permissible number of spells for availing the eligible 180 days of Child Care Leave from three to 10 spells during the entire service period.

A review meeting in this regard was held on Tuesday at the local Collectorate with conservator of forests and zoo curator C Selvam and regional director of tourism Dr R Ramana Prasad.

micro plan covering event programmes, tourism facilities, stage arrangements and overall logistics.

Special attention will be given to arrangements at key locations including Pulicat-Nellapattu, BV Palem, Atakanithippa, Irakkam Island, Ubbalamadugu and Periyapalayam. The Collector stressed that the Flamingo Festival should be developed into one of the major tourism events of the state, with all departments working in close coordination.

He also called for wide publicity at the state and national levels to attract more tourists. Plans are to be drawn up for extensive promotion through posters, logos, banners, publicity material and digital display boards. All departments were asked to submit their action plans at the earliest.

District tourism and culture officer M Janardhan Reddy, APTDC EE Subramanyam, tourism officials and event organisers attended the meeting.

It may be recalled that Nelapattu Bird Sanctuary, one of the largest pelicanries in the region, serves as an important breeding and roosting site for both long-distance and local migratory birds. The Flamingo Festival, which began in 2001 as a tourism revenue initiative, has grown into a major attraction. Each winter, around 10,000 to 12,000 migratory birds from nearly 80 species visit Pulicat, making it a haven for birdwatchers and nature lovers.

VB-GRAMIN Bill raises fears among rural workers

NARESH NANDAM
ONGOLE

THE Viksit Bharat-Guarantee for Rozgar and Ajeevika Mission (VK-GRAMIN) VB-G RAM G Bill which was introduced in Parliament on Monday to replace the two-decade-old Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Act (MGNREGA), promises increase in workdays from 100 to 125, but masks fundamental changes that could leave rural workers worse off. Experts estimate that states like Andhra Pradesh could lose up to Rs 5,000 crore in Central funding, likely forcing

- Bill promises 125 workdays but replaces the legal right to employment with budget-based allocations, risking funding cuts of up to Rs 5,000 crore for states like Andhra Pradesh
- Cost burden shifts to states, which must fund 40% of expenses and bear any excess spending, while a clause allows suspension of work for 60 days during peak farm seasons.
- Mandatory tech-heavy systems and Centrally approved plans may exclude vulnerable workers and weaken scheme's role as a flexible safety net during rural distress them to cap work even when villagers need it.

The most significant shift transforms employment from a legal right into a budget-controlled programme. Under MGNREGA, households could demand work and the government was legally bound to provide it within 15 days or pay unemployment allowance.

The new law replaces this with 'normative allocation' based on fixed budgets decided by the Central government for each state. Work will now depend on budget ceilings rather than worker demand.

Financial burden shifts dramatically to states, which must now contribute 40 per cent of costs (10 per cent for northeastern states).

Any spending beyond the allocated ceiling is borne entirely by state budgets. A controversial provision allows states to suspend all scheme work for 60 days during peak agricultural seasons.

For landless labourers who depend on the programme when farm work is scarce or exploitative, this legally closes a crucial safety net precisely when income is most needed.

Technology requirements compound access barriers. Mandatory biometric attendance, GPS tracking and app-based systems may exclude elderly workers, those with poor connectivity or worn fingerprints, and people lacking proper documentation.

All work must now come from pre-approved Viksit Gram Panchayat Plans integrated with national infrastructure systems. This removes MGNREGA's flexibility for urgent, simple employment during distress, favouring large infrastructure projects requiring multi-scheme coordination.

Chakradhar Buddha, coordinator for LibTech India, an NGO, observed that many provisions of the VB-GRAMIN Act are unfair. He said that the employment system shifts from a demand-driven legal entitlement with relatively simple ground-level processes to a Centrally-controlled, technology-heavy scheme, where budget constraints and digital compliance may override workers' survival needs. He said that Andhra Pradesh used to receive feedback and suggestions on best practices for the MGNREGA through APNA (Andhra Pradesh NGOs Alliance).

He advised the state, which played a key role in the design and implementation of the MGNREGA, to retake the lead and restart consultations with stakeholders and the NGOs network to propose actionable changes that help workers from all regions receive work when they really need it and wages on time.

POLITICAL ROWDIES HAVE NO PLACE IN AP: NAIDU

VIJAYAWADA

CHIEF Minister N Chandrababu Naidu on Tuesday issued a stern warning against what he described as the rise of “political rowdysim” in the state, declaring that those who commit crimes under the guise of politics have no right to remain in the state. He asserted that his government would show no leniency towards criminal elements, regardless of political affiliation.

Addressing a gathering at the appointment letter distribution ceremony for newly selected 5,757 police constables at the Andhra Pradesh Special Police (APSP) Battalion parade ground in Mangalagiri, the Chief Minister reiterated his resolve to maintain strict law and order. “Those who indulge in rowdysim in this State have no right to be here. I still stand by that statement,” he said. At the outset, Naidu announced a significant hike in the stipend for constables undergoing training, increasing it from Rs 4,500 to Rs 12,500 in a single step. He described the decision as part of the government’s commitment to strengthening the police force and boosting morale among new recruits. Reflecting on past incidents, the Chief Minister referred to the murder of former minister Y S Vivekananda Reddy during the 2019 elections, stating that the crime had initially been projected as a natural death. He alleged that crucial evidence was tampered with and that political opponents sought to shift blame onto him. “If that crime had been detected properly at the time, history would have been different,” he remarked, adding that he had since become more vigilant and determined. Naidu said crime rates had come down significantly after the formation of the NDA coalition government and warned of uncompromising action against offences involving women and drugs. He described the ganja menace as a blot on the state’s image and said a special task force had been constituted to suppress it “with an iron hand”. The Chief Minister also noted that the nature of crime was changing and called upon the police to adopt proactive methods, including extensive use of CCTV surveillance and swift investigation. Stressing the principle of “visible policing and invisible police,” Naidu said technology-driven and professional policing was the need of the hour. He cautioned that some criminals were becoming emboldened due to political patronage and made it clear that the government would not hesitate to act even against its own party members if required. Highlighting employment generation, the Chief Minister said his government had fulfilled its promise of providing jobs by conducting the Mega DSC and police recruitments with transparency. He said a total of 23,676 police jobs had been provided during his tenure, including 5,757 constable appointments in the current phase, and asserted that examinations were conducted without corruption, using digital technology. Naidu said peace and order were prerequisites for attracting investments and development. Deputy chief minister Pawan Kalyan, home minister Vangalapudi Anitha and director general of police Harish Kumar Gupta were present at the event.

A ‘north-south divide’ over Hindi names for new laws

NEW DELHI

THE row over the renaming of MNREGA has highlighted the Centre’s new practice of naming Bills in Hindi, deviating from the tradition of providing a Hindi and an English name for each Bill. A slew of Bills in recent months have come with just Hindi names -- packing in an acronym -- which many have claimed is another attempt at homogenization through language. The practice has resonated especially in the south, where leaders have equated it with another attempt at Hindi imposition. The Congress is already seeing red over naming MNREGA -- a homage to Mahatma Gandhi -- after Lord Ram. While the BJP is jeering that it is another evidence of the party’s aversion to Hindu religion and ethos, the use of Hindi names appears to be about to widen the north-south divide. Many MPs and political leaders, meanwhile, have contended that the names in Hindi are difficult to understand. On Monday, as Union Education Minister Dharmendra Pradhan presented

Hindi names so far

THE G Ram G -- which could replace the MNREGA, stands for Viksit Bharat Guarantee for Employment and Livelihood Mission (Rural) Bill. A Bill for reforms in higher education is called Viksit Bharat Shiksha Adhishthan Bill. There is also Sabka Bima, Sabki Raksha Bill to amend insurance laws. A Bill for allowing the entry of private sector into the field of atomic energy flips the system -- an English name that produces a Hindi acronym. The “Sustainable Harnessing and Advancement of Nuclear Energy for Transforming India” has the short name of SHANTI, meaning peace. Earlier, the laws that replaced the Indian Penal Code, the Code of Criminal Procedure and the Indian Evidence Act were called Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita, Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, and Bharatiya Sakshya Bill. The Bhartiya Vayuyan Vidheyak law has replaced the Aircraft Act of 1934.

the Viksit Bharat Shiksha Adhishthan Bill in the Lok Sabha, RSP(A) leader NK Premachandran said it was difficult for him to pronounce the name. He contended that this practice of using Hindi names violates Article 348(B) of the Constitution, which says new laws should have names in English. Congress member Jothimani and DMK member T M Selvaganapathi also made their reservations clear. “I see this as an imposition of Hindi. Already, Tamil Nadu has been deprived of SSA funds just because we have opposed the three-language policy in the National Education Policy-2020,” Jothimani said. DMK leader T R Baalu also spoke against “imposition” of Hindi on southern states. Congress’s P Chidambaram said the change “is an affront to non-Hindi speaking people and states that have an official language other than Hindi”.

Sonia Gandhi extended her best wishes to Revanth Reddy, expressing her hope that the state will be taken forward on the path of development in line with the Telangana Rising-2047 Vision document. She made these comments when Revanth Reddy met her in Delhi on Tuesday and handed over the Telangana Rising-2047 Vision document. The Chief Minister briefed Sonia Gandhi on the details of the Telangana Rising Global Summit-2025, which was held for two days on December 8, 9 in Telangana. The CM also explained to Sonia Gandhi the welfare schemes being implemented by the state government for the past two years, the measures being taken for the state’s development, and future plans.

G RAM G Bill introduced in LS amid Oppn uproar

Opposition members strongly opposed the proposed legislation at the introduction stage and pressed for sending the Bill to a Parliamentary panel for greater scrutiny. The MPs, including Priyanka Gandhi of the Congress, strongly objected to the “removal” of Mahatma Gandhi’s name. Opposing the Bill at the introduction stage, T R Baalu of DMK said Mahatma Gandhi lived in villages and worked for the welfare of the poor there. He said then prime minister Manmohan Singh brought the “noble bill” (MNREGA), which helped the poorest of the poor get 100 days of employment. The Father of the Nation is being “ridiculed” by the present government, he charged. Priyanka Gandhi Vadra registered her “strong objection” to the draft law, saying MNREGA was a revolutionary Act which was supported by all members of the House when it was passed. “Under this, the poorest of the poor get 100 days of employment. This (present) Bill is weakening the employment rights of the poor. It is against the Constitution,” she claimed. The MP from Kerala’s Wayanad said the MGNREG Act has ensured the Centre provides 90 per cent of the funds for the works undertaken under the law. “It will be reduced to 60 per cent now. This will hit the finances of the state governments, especially those waiting for GST compensation, she pointed out. “Under this bill, the Centre’s control over the scheme will increase, but its responsibility will come down.” Responding to certain remarks by some ruling party MPs, Priyanka said Mahatma Gandhi was not from her family, but he was from every family in the country. She proposed sending the Bill to a Parliamentary panel.

He also discussed the issues of fertilizer and agriculture; innovation, IT and digital technologies; critical minerals; infrastructure; health and pharma; education and capacity; tourism and heritage; and culture and people-to-people ties. The Prime Minister proposed that the two countries should aim to enhance bilateral trade to $5 billion over the next 5 years. He also called for collaboration between Jordan’s digital payment system and India’s United Payments Interface (UPI). Jordan is an important supplier of fertiliser to India, and companies on both sides are in discussions for further substantive investment in Jordan to meet growing demand for phosphatic fertilizer in India. PM Modi’s first full-fledged visit to Jordan marks the 75th anniversary of the establishment of diplomatic relations between the two countries. India is Jordan’s third largest trading partner. Jordan is also a leading supplier of phosphates and potash fertilizers for India. Around 17,500 Indian nationals currently live in Jordan, mostly working in textiles, construction, manufacturing and healthcare. While India exports cereals, frozen meat, petroleum products, animal fodder etc. to Jordan, fertilisers, especially phosphates and potash are imported.

CONG PLANS COUNTRYWIDE PROTEST TODAY

Congress general secretary K C Venugopal, in a letter to all state Congress presidents, urged them to organise protests at all district headquarters. These protests must be held with portraits of Mahatma Gandhi, symbolising resistance to the erasure of his name and values, and highlight how the proposed law will impact the crores of beneficiaries of MGNREGA, he said in the letter. “The combined attack on Gandhi’s legacy, workers’ rights and federal responsibility exposes a larger BJP-RSS conspiracy to dismantle rights-based welfare and replace it with charity controlled from the Centre,” Venugopal said.

58 lakh names deleted in West Bengal draft SIR 24 LAKH DEAD, 12 LAKH MISSING

IN a development likely to raise a political storm in poll-bound West Bengal, a total of 58 lakh names has been deleted from the state’s draft voter list after the Special Intensive Revision (SIR) to weed out duplication and errors. Out of these 58 lakh names, 24 lakh have been marked as “dead”, 19 lakh as “relocated”, 12 lakh as “missing”, and 1.3 lakh as “duplicate”. The publication of the draft list marks the end of the first phase of the Special Intensive Revision. Those whose names have been incorrectly excluded from the draft list can now raise objections and request corrections. After addressing these objections, the final list will be published in February next year. The announcement of the Assembly polls in Bengal is expected after the publication of the final list. SIR was last conducted in Bengal in 2002. Trinamool MP Saugata Roy termed the deletion of 58 lakh names “injustice”. “This is the BJP’s conspiracy to remove legitimate voters from Bengal’s list. We have set up voter assistance booths and we will help them submit forms to include their names in the voter list,” he said. The publication of the draft list is likely to intensify the political uproar in Bengal over SIR. Chief Minister and Trinamool Congress chief Mamata Banerjee has opposed the exercise and accused the Centre and the Election Commission of using SIR to delete the names of lakhs of eligible voters ahead of the election.

“The real bottleneck for the rapid growth of the aviation sector is inadequate skilled manpower. The EduCity is our response to that challenge as it creates a world-class ecosystem that integrates education, research, industry, and on-the-job training,” he explained. Elaborating on the AAD EduCity further, Lokesh said: “This is not about creating another university. It is about building an ecosystem that supplies job-ready professionals, cutting-edge research and globally benchmarked skills.” The Andhra Pradesh government has committed to developing the core EduCity infrastructure within 12 months with phased onboarding of global academic and industry partners thereafter. “With aviation demand exploding globally, countries that invest early in talent ecosystems will lead the next phase of growth. Through the EduCity, AP

In alignment with its massive philanthropic support for public education infrastructure, the MANSAS Trust provided the land for EduCity. Acknowledging the significant contribution of Governor of Goa and MANSAS Trust Chairman P Ashok Gajapathi Raju and Vizianagaram MLA Aditi Gajapathi Raju, Lokesh emphasised that it would serve as a major endeavour that shapes India’s aviation future for decades. YCP misleading Centre on PPP medical colleges: CM

The Chief Minister asserted that the PPP model is a globally accepted mechanism that is being implemented across sectors, including healthcare, to expand capacity and improve service delivery. He said the model would help increase the number of medical seats while ensuring access to corporate-level healthcare for economically weaker sections. Naidu also launched a sharp personal attack on former chief minister YS Jagan Mohan Reddy, alleging the latter’s disregard for judicial processes. He said Jagan Mohan Reddy frequently skipped court appearances in cases related to alleged illegal assets and raised objections even when Supreme Court directions were being implemented. Such conduct, he remarked, reflected a lack of respect for constitutional institutions. Referring to the TTD Parakamani theft case, the Chief Minister recalled that the High Court had expressed concern over attempts to treat it as an ordinary offence. He said offerings made by devotees carry deep religious sentiment and welcomed the court’s suggestion to adopt artificial intelligence-based systems for the counting and management of temple donations. On governance and administration, Naidu said the government’s practice of issuing appointment letters to newly selected candidates in the presence of their family members was intended to instill a sense of pride and responsibility. He noted that this approach, earlier followed during DSC recruitments, is now being adopted for police constable appointments under the ‘Yuvagalam’ programme. Turning to party affairs, the Chief Minister said he had held discussions with three-member committees on district-level organisational matters. He indicated that objections related to district party president appointments would be reviewed and resolved shortly. He also underlined the need to strengthen women’s representation in party leadership, stating that the current 28.4 per cent representation should be increased to 30 per cent in view of possible future reservations. Naidu said the list of district party presidents would be announced within two days, followed by the declaration of the state committee before the end of the month. He added that organisational performance would be reviewed every three months and warned that non-performing office-bearers would be replaced, stressing the need for strict adherence to the party calendar from January onwards.

Statewide rollout of digital health records in a year: Naidu

A 10-member national and international expert advisory team on public health participated in the meeting virtually. Naidu said the government would focus on preventive healthcare by leveraging digital tools and artificial intelligence, rather than merely treating diseases after they occur. He said digitalisation of health records would help identify and analyse the top ten diseases affecting the population and significantly reduce medical expenses. The Chief Minister asked the expert panel to help showcase Andhra Pradesh’s digital healthcare initiatives at the upcoming Global AI Convention in Mumbai. Referring to the success of the Mustabu programme aimed at improving personal hygiene among tribal students, the Chief Minister said the NDA government was committed to building a “healthy, wealthy and happy Andhra Pradesh”. He stressed that effective implementation at the grassroots level was critical to the success of any policy. Interacting with the expert panel, former WHO chief scientist Dr Soumya Swaminathan underlined the importance of nutrition, availability of doctors and nurses, and the impact of pollution on public health. UNAIDS founding Executive Director Peter Piot said public health should not be viewed purely as a medical issue, as it was influenced by multiple social and environmental factors. Former Union secretary Aarti Ahuja highlighted the need for root-cause analysis of diseases and expressed concern over the rising number of dialysis cases among youth due to pollution. Prof Yik-Ying Teo of the National University of Singapore said AI and digital health records could help deliver more efficient healthcare services. Harvard T H Chan School of Public Health’s Margaret Elizabeth Kruk noted Andhra Pradesh’s effective utilisation of the Hepatitis vaccine. Khosla Labs founder Srikanth Nadhamuni said AI-enabled health services were becoming central to public healthcare delivery, while NABH Chairperson Dr Rizwan Koita observed that Andhra Pradesh was emerging as a hub for digital healthcare. AIIMS Delhi’s Dr Nikhil Tandon stressed early diagnosis and risk assessment, and AIG Hospitals Chairman Dr D Nageweswara Reddy said health education from a young age was essential. Gates Foundation India Country Director Archana Vyas said an action plan would be prepared based on expert recommendations, including the formation of a health secretariat to monitor public health outcomes. Health Minister Satyakumar Yadav said the expert inputs would guide the state’s healthcare reforms. The Chief Minister directed officials to hold such expert consultations every six months.

Love after 40: Not just romance, a practical support system for child's life pressures

In your 20s, love is all about taking chances just because the moment felt right and the luxury to make mistakes. But, dating in 40s is a different energy. It is more stable, calm, and grounded in life experience. By this age, people have lived enough to know what truly matters and what's merely noise. Young people imagine love is like two pieces of a puzzle that complete each other. But mature daters know better; it is two complete individuals choosing to support and help each other grow.

In the last few years, love has taken on a whole new meaning for divorced, separated, and widowed singles with kids. It is not only about romance; it has become a real source of support. When life is a full

Love after 40 isn't about chasing sparks—it's about building stability, understanding, and shared strength. For single parents and those starting over, companionship becomes a support system, not just a romance. In this phase of life, love means choosing a partner who stands with you through real-world pressures, every day plate, with kids to care for, aging parents, financial responsibilities, and society's prying eyes, having a companion who is there by your side through the thick and thin brings more than just joy; it brings the kind of strength everyone deserves. Carrying all that burden alone is not easy; the right partner is not just a date or a romantic presence. They are the teammate who understands and shares that weight.

The dating journey after 40, one that is often seeking a second chance, brings a different kind of magic.

What was once viewed with suspicion is now beginning to be socially accepted, to the extent that specific apps have been built for people seeking love at a more mature age. Standard dating apps fall short for people over 40. At this stage, especially for single parents, dating can be very different. It is not just swiping for fun and sparks; the checklist is rewritten, priorities shift, and what truly matters is finding a person who understands that life can throw a curveball at any point; they want maturity, reliability, and compatibility.

38% of daters beyond 40 look for emotional stability over the thrill alone; someone who will patiently listen without rushing to "fix" things, because sometimes you just need to be heard. A partner who doesn't judge their past or understands that, on most days, their child will come before everything. By the time you're 40, romance isn't about big declarations anymore; it's found in small, steady efforts. Rebound's Founder and CEO, Ravi Mittal, added, "Love for single parents, or daters above 40, is definitely more than just romance. It's an ecosystem of support. Surveys show single parents are often looking for a match who understands that their plans depend on their kids' school schedule and even mood, and they might be extremely thorough during interactions because introducing someone new to a child's life comes with a lot of hope and fear." 3 in 5 daters with kids claim that finding a suitable partner who values maturity and respects their responsibilities is much easier through dating apps for second chances because these platforms tackle the realities of taking a second attempt at love, instead of brushing them under the rug.

Sameera explained that packed with high fiber, this natural drink not only aids digestion and weight management but also helps maintain blood sugar balance, healthy cholesterol levels, and kidney health. The 'De Dana Dan' actress also shared a method to prepare this gut-friendly detox drink. She recommends starting with fresh banana stem and cumin seeds. Reddy then advises blending the chopped stem and seeds together, then straining the mixture to extract the juice. She revealed that the drink is best consumed fresh in the morning on an empty stomach, allowing its cleansing and digestive benefits to kick in naturally. Sharing the video on Instagram, she wrote, "Refreshing, detoxifying, and gut-friendly! This simple banana stem water helps flush toxins, reduce bloating, and keep digestion happy—without any fuss. Earlier, she had revealed the recipe for her healthy, chocolatey, and guilt-free cookies. She has also been sharing recipes using coconut. In terms of work, Sameera is gearing up for the release of her upcoming horror-thriller 'Chimni,' where she plays in the role of Kali. The film follows a grieving mother living in the haunted Chanderi palace, where a malevolent spirit has taken hold of her daughter.

Training young minds for India’s space future

FROM CHANDRAYAAN TO GAGANYAAN, THE NEXT LEAP DEPENDS ON TRAINING THE NEXT GENERATION OF SPACE INNOVATORS

- Youth as a strategic asset: India’s demographic advantage can drive long-term leadership in space science and technology.
- Expanding access to space education: Outreach programmes, early education and regional-language content can democratise learning.
- Academia–industry collaboration:: Partnerships with startups and private players are enabling hands-on training and innovation.
- Bridging gaps for sustainability: Addressing rural access, faculty shortages and industry alignment is vital for future missions

DR PRIYANK KUMAR

India has made remarkable achievements in space exploration in the last two decades, carving a distinctive position among space powers. From launching satellites for global clients to accomplishing the unprecedented mission of Chandrayaan-3 and gearing up for Gaganyaan human space flight, ISRO has set new benchmarks in the segment.

However, these achievements are just the beginning, as India’s most valuable asset, its youth, will keep the momentum going and growing. Hence, investing in training young minds will lead to a strong, innovative, and self-reliant space ecosystem.

Today, space education is no longer confined to elite institutions or specialized research centres. It is becoming a national priority, especially as space technology increasingly merges with artificial intelligence, robotics , climate science, and life sciences. As one of the youngest nations on the planet, India has a demographic advantage that can be leveraged to fuel its space future.

By introducing space science early in education and creating pathways for hands-on learning, India can cultivate a generation of thinkers, builders, and explorers who will shape the next era of space innovation.

To support this vision, several outreach programs have been launched for students at various levels. For instance, ISRO’s Yuvika programme, also termed the Young Scientist Programme, inspires young students with comprehensive knowledge on Space Technology, Space Science, and Space Applications.

Such meticulously designed programmes motivate students to pursue higher studies in Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (STEM) and contribute to the nation’s scientific growth.

In addition to these initiatives, prominent educational institutions like BIT Mesra are offering specialized programs in aerospace engineering and =rocket technology. These institutions are fostering interdisciplinary learning, encouraging students to explore the connections between space and other promising fields such as data science, environmental studies, and automation.

It is also important to mention the increasing role of the private sector in space education and innovation, as cutting-edge startups and tech organisations are collaborating with academic institutions to offer internships, workshops, and mentorship programs. These partnerships are fostering a vibrant ecosystem where students can work on live projects, develop prototypes, and even launch small satellites. The rise of space-tech incubators and accelerators is further driving entrepreneurial interest among young innovators.

However, despite the growing momentum, India’s space education landscape faces several challenges that must be addressed to sustain long-term progress. In this regard, uneven access to classrooms, and regional language content can help democratize access to space knowledge. This inclusive approach ensures that talent from every corner of the country can contribute to India’s space journey.

Looking ahead, India’s space ambitions are set to rival those of established space powers like the United States, Russia, and China. Missions to study the Sun (Aditya-L1), Venus, interplanetary exploration and setting up our own Bhartiya Antariksha Station are advancing, and to support them, a highly skilled workforce with expertise in astrophysics, planetary science, and advanced propulsion systems will be essential. This makes it even more crucial to create a strong educational foundation today.

India’s rising prowess in space is a testament to its scientific expertise and visionary leadership. But the true potential lies in empowering the next generation of space scientists, engineers, and entrepreneurs. By investing in education, fostering innovation, and forging inclusive opportunities, India will not just prepare for future missions but will shape the future of space itself.

Seerat-un-Nabi educational initiative identifies ‘100 Gems’ for advanced training programmes

HYDERABAD: A large-scale Seerat-un-Nabi competition concluded at Shahi Masjid Bagh-e-Aam, drawing a gathering of more than 2,000 participants here on Tuesday. The concluding ceremony was addressed by international motivational speaker Munawar Zama, who highlighted the importance of structured learning and character development.

The faith-based educational initiative was organized under the supervision of the mosque’s Imam, Maulana Ahsan Al Hamoomi, with the objective of promoting systematic study of the life and teachings of Prophet Muhammad (PBUH). Participants from diverse backgrounds—including students, working professionals, and senior citizens—took part in the program. According to the organizers, around 1,200 candidates appeared for written examinations conducted in two sessions after a three-month preparation period. Study materials were made available in multiple languages to ensure wider participation.

Addressing the gathering, Munawar Zama, Founder and CEO of English House Academy, announced the selection of 100 top-performing participants, referred to as the “100 Gems,” who will be enrolled in advanced development programs.

These programs will focus on communication skills, debating, and emerging technologies, including artificial intelligence. He also announced a 50 percent fee concession for deserving candidates and full scholarships for orphaned students. Maulana Ahsan Al Hamoomi proposed the introduction of annual leadership camps for the selected participants to further enhance their sense of social responsibility and community engagement.

The event witnessed several moving moments, including senior citizens returning to examination halls after several decades. Organizers announced plans to make the Seerat-un-Nabi competition an annual event, with possibilities of expanding it to other parts of India.

Today is National Say It Now Day

EXPRESSING THANKS: A GIFT THAT BUILDS RELATIONSHIPS

In today’s fast-paced world, youngsters often move from one goal to another without pausing to reflect on the people who support them along the way. Friends who listen, family members who sacrifice, and loved ones who encourage us quietly shape our lives every day. Learning to express gratitude and appreciation to these people is not only a kind gesture but also a powerful habit that can transform relationships and personal well-being.

Gratitude is more than simply saying “thank you” out of politeness. It is about acknowledging how someone’s presence, words, or actions have made a meaningful difference in our lives.

When youngsters take the time to tell a friend, “You helped me believe in myself,” or tell a parent, “Your support gave me strength,” they create moments of deep emotional connection. These honest expressions remind others that their efforts matter and are noticed.

Encouraging youngsters to express appreciation also helps them develop empathy and emotional intelligence. By reflecting on how others have influenced them, young people learn to see beyond themselves. They begin to understand that success, happiness, and growth are rarely achieved alone. This awareness fosters humility and strengthens bonds built on respect and understanding. Expressing gratitude can also have a positive impact on mental health. Studies and everyday experiences show that people who practice gratitude feel happier, less stressed, and more optimistic. For youngsters facing academic pressure, social challenges, or uncertainty about the future, focusing on appreciation can shift their mindset from what is lacking to what is meaningful. Sharing gratitude out loud amplifies this effect, creating a cycle of positivity between individuals.

Moreover, telling loved ones how they have made a difference can leave a lasting impression. Words of appreciation are often remembered long after gifts or achievements fade. A simple message, letter, or heartfelt conversation can strengthen relationships and even heal misunderstandings. For some, hearing appreciation at the right moment can provide motivation, comfort, or hope.

In conclusion, encouraging youngsters to express gratitude and appreciation is an investment in stronger relationships and healthier communities. By openly telling friends, family, and loved ones how they have shaped their lives, young people learn the value of kindness, connection, and emotional honesty. A few sincere words can make a lifetime of difference—for both the speaker and the listener.

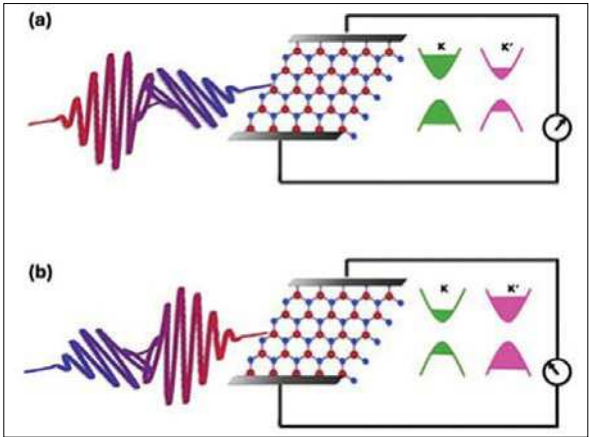

Single light pulse can control quantum states in 2D materials: IIT Bombay Scientists at the Indian Institute of Technology (IIT) Bombay announced that they have discovered a simple new way to use light to control quantum states inside ultra-thin materials, a breakthrough that could lead to computers that are far faster and more energy-efficient than today’s electronic devices.

The research focuses on two-dimensional semiconductors, materials that are only one atom thick and thousands of times thinner than a human hair. Inside these materials, electrons can exist in two distinct quantum states known as valleys, labelled K and K’.

These two states can be compared to the 0 and 1 used in digital computing, forming the basis of a growing research area called valleytronics.

Until now, controlling these valley states has been difficult. Earlier techniques required complex laser setups using circularly polarised light and multiple laser pulses, and even then, the control was often incomplete or hard to measure.

As a result, reliable and reversible switching between the two valley states remained a major challenge.

The IIT Bombay team has now shown that this complex setup is not necessary. In a study published in the journal ‘Advanced Optical Materials’, the researchers demonstrated that a single linearly polarised laser pulse can both control and read the valley state of electrons.

The key lies in introducing a small, controlled skew in the laser pulse’s polarisation. According to Prof. Gopal Dixit from IIT Bombay, this slight asymmetry in the laser pulse is enough to push electrons into either the K or K’ valley.

By reversing the skew in the pulse, the electrons can be switched back to the other valley. This makes the process fully reversible, with the two valley states effectively acting as quantum versions of 0 and 1.

What makes the discovery even more significant is that the same laser pulse also generates a tiny electric current.

This current acts as a built-in signal that reveals which valley state the electrons have moved into. In simple terms, the system can be controlled and read at the same time, without the need for extra lasers or measuring devices.

The researchers also found that the method works across a wide range of laser wavelengths and does not need to be finely tuned to the material’s energy levels.

U-19 Asia Cup

India maul Malaysia by 315 runs

Abhigyan Kundo's historic unbeaten double ton and Deepesh Devendran's 5/22 set up massive win

ABHIGYAN Kundo's record 209 not out and an excellent return of 5/22 from Deepesh Devendran set up a massive 315-run victory for India against Malaysia in their U-19 Asia Cup match here on Tuesday.

India's margin of win is now their second biggest in terms of runs in Youth ODIs, after a 326-run triumph over Uganda in 2022.

Kundo etched his name in record books with a first-ever double century for any Indian in Youth ODIs, scoring his runs off 125 balls with 17 fours and nine sixes to fire India to a mammoth 408 for seven.

In reply, right-arm medium pacer Devendran ran through the Malaysian middle-order after Kishan Singh and Udhav Mohan struck once each to rock the opposition, and despite a late resistance from Hamzah Panggi (35), Malaysia were bowled out for 93 in 32.1 overs.

It was a perfect outing for the Indian colts who put together a robust batting show, in which the tone was set by Vaibhav Sooryavanshi who notched up a quickfire 50 off 26 balls (5 fours and 3 sixes). While Sooryavanshi could not convert his start into another big score, having scored 171 a few days ago against UAE, India were unperturbed even as they lost Vihaan Malhotra (7) and Ayush Mhatre (14) cheaply.

No 4. Vedant Trivedi teamed up with Kundo as the two added 209 runs for the fourth wicket to consolidate, in which the latter was the dominant of the two with his aggressive stroke play particularly on the leg side.

The 17-year-old Kundo's rotation of the strike was top notch as he collected 55 singles during his innings while hitting 17 fours and nine sixes in his superlative knock.

Kundo's double ton is also only the second instance of a batter at U-19 level crossing the 200-run mark, with South Africa's Jorich Van Schalkwyk's 215 against Zimbabwe earlier this year being the first.

The 18-year-old Trivedi looked set for a triple-figure score but ended up giving a return catch to Jaashwin Krishnamurthy, walking back for 90 of 106 balls (7 fours). Kundo was the aggressor in his 87-run stand for the fifth wicket with Kanishk Chouhan while he brought up his double hundred.

BRIEF SCORES:

India U-19 408/7 in 50 overs (Vaibhav Sooryavanshi 50, Vedant Trivedi 90, Abhigyan Kundo 209 not out; Muhammad Akram 5/89) beat Malaysia 93 in 32.1 overs (Hamzah Panggi 35; Deepesh Devendran 5/22, Udhav Mohan 2/24) by 315 runs.

Asian Youth Para Games: Indian shuttlers win 8 gold

NEW DELHI

INDIAN youngsters delivered a remarkable performance at the Dubai 2025 Asian Youth Para Games, winning 8 gold medals in the Para badminton events. The Indian team proved to be a formidable force, securing an impressive 17 medals – 8 gold, 3 silver, and 6 bronze.

At the core of India's success was Jatin Azad, whose composed and confident performances defined the team's spirit. Azad achieved double gold in the SU5 category; first capturing the men's singles title before returning to the court with Shivam Yadav to win gold in men's doubles. Their partnership, founded on trust and communication, remained strong under the pressure of finals day.

Speaking after his victories, Azad looked beyond Dubai with quiet determination, as he said, "I want to play in all championships, gain more experience and exposure. With more exposure, I will achieve more – and I know I will be selected for the LA28 Paralympics," he said.

India's successful streak was also driven by mental toughness. Harshit Choudhary, another gold medalist, emphasised the mindset that helped the team navigate the most challenging moments of the

IPL 2026 to be held from March 26 to May 31

MUMBAI: The 19th Indian Premier League will be held from March 26 to May 31 but it remains to be seen if defending champions Royal Challengers Bengaluru's home base gets a game after a deadly stampede halted all big-ticket cricket at the M Chinnaswamy Stadium. As per established norms, the Chinnaswamy should host the tournament opener given the home side, RCB, won the IPL 2025 title but that is unlikely to be clear till the time BCCI comes out with the full-scale schedule.

The venue was witness to chaos and a stampede, which left 11 dead, after RCB's trophy celebrations drew lakhs on the streets, that was well over the state machinery's capacity to handle at a short notice in June this year.

While the venue has received conditional clearance from the Karnataka government, it also needs to meet the necessary safety and security standards following the deaths.

Telangana's Shivani bags 3rd medal at SGFi Nationals

TELANGANA swimmer Shivani Karra continued her impressive run at the 69th SGFi National Swimming Championship for Girls 2025–26, winning a silver medal in the U-14 girls' 100m backstroke on Day 5 at the Shyama Prasad Mukherjee Swimming Stadium here on Tuesday.

Shivani clocked 1:09.97 to finish second, narrowly behind CISCE's Shreya Binil, who took gold with a timing of 1:09.14. This silver marked Shivani's third medal of the championship, adding to her earlier gold in the 200m backstroke and silver in the 50m backstroke, underlining her dominance in backstroke events.

In another notable performance for Telangana, Sudhiksha Krishna secured the bronze medal in the U-19 girls' 50m freestyle, clocking 28.24 seconds. Karnataka's Shalini R. Dixit won the gold with a timing of 27.75 seconds, while

Spotlight on SKY as India eye series win over SA

LUCKNOW: Shubman Gill's lean patch has been the talking point but an equally "out of runs" skipper Suryakumar Yadav is also under intense scrutiny as India look to find the right balance and seal the five-match series against South Africa in the fourth T20I here on Wednesday.

The third game was an ideal opportunity for Suryakumar to rediscover his touch while India chased a modest 118-run target, but the ease that once made him the top ranked batter in the world was noticeably missing.

Shots that defined his dominance have been producing erratic results and the match in Dharamsala was no different as he fell to his trademark pick-up stroke, highlighting a continued struggle.

But he was defiant when it came to self-assessment. "The thing is, I've been batting beautifully in the nets. I'm trying everything that's in my control. When the runs have to come, they'll definitely come. I'm not out of form, but definitely out of runs," Suryakumar confidently said at the post-match presentation ceremony after India's win in Dharamsala on Sunday.

However, the numbers tell a worrying story. The Indian captain has been searching for fluency for over a year, averaging under 15 in the format this season. Additionally, he's still without a half-century in 2025, the longest such phase of his career.

Only twice during this period has he managed to bat beyond 20 balls.

Modi govt's illegality exposed: Cong on relief to Gandhis

NEW DELHI

THE Congress on Tuesday claimed the "illegality" of the Narendra Modi government and its "politically motivated prosecution stands fully exposed" after a court here refused to take cognisance of the Enforcement Directorate's National Herald money laundering case against Rahul Gandhi, Sonia Gandhi and others.

In a statement, Congress spokesperson Supriya Shrinate said the ED's proceedings against Congress leadership -- Sonia Gandhi and Rahul Gandhi -- in the case have been found to be "completely illegal and mala fide" by the court.

"The mala fide and illegality of the Modi government stands fully exposed. The court has ruled that the ED case is without jurisdiction; it has no FIR, without which there is no case. This politically motivated prosecution by the Modi government over the last decade of the principal opposition party stands exposed before the people of India," she said.

"No case of money laundering, no proceeds of crime and no movement of property; all baseless charges that have been a part of a political witch hunt, propaganda, reputation assassination and campaign which stands defeated today," Shrinate said.

She said the Congress party and its leadership are committed to fighting for the truth and for the rights of every Indian. "We cannot, and will not ever be intimidated, because we fight for the truth," she added.

Party general secretary K

C Venugopal said, "Through this judgment, the court has exposed the illegal and mala fide political targeting by the Narendra Modi government."

"From day one, the opposition, especially Sonia Gandhi and Rahul Gandhi, has been targeted without any legal basis or wrongdoing. This judgment clearly vindicates our stand," he added.

Refusing to take cognisance of the federal probe agency's money laundering charge against Congress leaders Rahul Gandhi, Sonia Gandhi, and five others in the National Herald case, the court noted that the chargesheet filed is based on a probe into a complaint by a private person and not on an FIR of a predicate offence.

Its cognisance is impermissible in law, the judge said. (PTI)

Goa nightclub fire case Luthra brothers deported, taken into police custody

NEW DELHI

GAURAV Luthra and Saurabh Luthra, co-owners of the Birch by Romeo Lane nightclub in Goa where a massive fire killed 25 people, were deported from Thailand on Tuesday and taken into custody by Delhi and Goa police as soon as they landed in Delhi. The brothers arrived in the Indian capital in an Indigo flight and were immediately handed over to authorities for further legal proceedings, 10 days after a blaze tore through the Birch by Romeo Lane nightclub in Arpora in North Goa.

Gaurav, 44 and Saurabh, 40, will be produced before a Delhi court where the Goa police will seek their transit remand.

A TV reporter tracking the brothers from Bangkok attempted to shoot inside the aircraft, prompting the airlines and accompanying security officials to summon additional force to whisk away the two men.

The Luthra brothers are facing a case of culpable homicide and negligence following the December 6 tragedy, which investigators allege was compounded by the nightclub operating in violation of mandatory fire safety norms. The incident raised serious questions over alleged fire safety violations and lapses by the management.

Gaurav and Saurabh fled to Phuket in the early hours of December 7, hours after the fire at their nightclub, prompting the authorities to issue an Interpol

Blue Corner Notice and cancel their passports.

The duo was detained by Thai authorities at Phuket on December 11 following a request from the Indian government which later coordinated with officials in Thailand to deport them under legal treaties between the two nations.

On December 11, a Delhi court rejected the transit anticipatory bail pleas. Additional Sessions Judge Vandana termed the allegations against the brothers "prima facie grave and serious" and severely criticised their "conduct."

The court took note of the police investigation that the brothers had booked tickets to Phuket one hour after the fire, a fact their counsel had initially "concealed" while seeking protection from immediate arrest.

The judge said that leaving immediately after the tragedy was a clear attempt to "evade the legal process".

Security forces hunt for terrorists holed up in Udhampur village

JAMMU: Security forces searched for terrorists in Udhampur on Tuesday, a day after a policeman was killed in a gunfight there, a police officer said.

During the encounter on Monday, one terrorist was believed to have been injured, while two policemen suffered minor bullet wounds.

"The operation has been resumed in the area to track down the holed-up terrorists. The cordon has been further strengthened," the officer told PTI.

A joint team of the Special Operations Group (SOG) of police, along with the army and the CRPF, is on the job with sniffer dogs, the officer said.

On Monday, forces got locked in a gunfight with terrorists in Soan village of the Majalta area in Udhampur.

The village was raided by the police on a tip-off about the presence of three terrorists, believed to be affiliated with the Pakistan-based Jaish-e-Mohammad (JeM) outfit.

The encounter took place in the besieged village around 6 pm and continued for some time, resulting in injuries to one SOG jawan, Amjad Pathan, son of Bashrat Khan.

Pathan, a resident of Salva, Mendhar in Poonch district, later succumbed.

"A very small SOG team engaged the terrorists. Combing of the forest has been impeded due to darkness and treacherous terrain," IGP Jammu Bhim Sen Tutti said in a social media post.

Rupee falls 23 paise to settle at fresh record low of 91.01/$

The rupee has fallen from 90 a dollar to 91 in the last 10 trading sessions

MUMBAI

THE rupee fell 23 paise against the greenback to settle at a new all-time low of 91.01 (provisional) on Tuesday, as the government in the Rajya Sabha attributed the sliding value of domestic currency to widening trade deficit and the ongoing developments related to the India-US trade agreement.

During the session, the local unit lost 36 paise from its previous close against the greenback to hit its lowest-ever level of 91.14, but regained some ground later in the day. Even a weaker greenback and a sharp decline in global crude oil prices could not prevent the slide in the local unit, forex traders said.

The rupee has fallen from 90 a dollar to 91 in the last 10 trading sessions. The unit has slipped 1 per cent against the greenback in the past five sessions alone.

The issue was brought up in the Rajya Sabha on Tuesday, and Minister of State for Finance Pankaj Chaudhary said, "During the current financial year, the depreciation of the Rupee has been influenced by the increase in trade deficit and likely prospects arising from the ongoing developments in India's trade agreement with the US, amid relatively weak support from the capital account."

"The depreciation of currency is likely to enhance export competitiveness, which in turn impacts the economy positively. On the other hand, depreciation may raise the prices of imported goods. However, the overall impact of exchange rate depreciation on domestic prices depends on the extent of the pass-through of international commodity prices to the domestic market," he said.

Citing data, Chaudhary said that this year the rupee opened at 90.87 against the greenback and traded in the range of 90.76 to 91.14 before settling at 91.01 (provisional), down 23 paise from its previous close.

On Monday, the local unit settled at 90.78 against the US dollar, registering a loss of 29 paise from its previous close. "Rupee made a new lifetime low as dollar buying continued with news that (US President) Donald Trump has not agreed to the new trade proposals from India.

"The value of the INR is market-determined, with no target or specific level or band. The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) regularly monitors the foreign exchange market and intervenes in situations of excess volatility. Further, the RBI monitors key developments across the globe which may have an impact on USD-rupee exchange rate," the minister said.

According to forex traders, the rupee might even cross the 92 per dollar-mark this month. At the interbank foreign exchange, the rupee opened at 90.87 against the greenback and traded in the range of 90.76 to 91.14 before settling at 91.01 (provisional), down 23 paise from its previous close.

On Monday, the local unit settled at 90.78 against the US dollar, registering a loss of 29 paise from its previous close. "Rupee made a new lifetime low as dollar buying continued with news that (US President) Donald Trump has not agreed to the new trade proposals from India.

Gold snaps 4-day record rally, drops ₹1,700

NEW DELHI: Snapping the four-day record rally, gold prices declined by Rs 1,700 to Rs 1,35,900 per 10 grams in the national capital on Tuesday as investors booked profits amid weak global cues, according to the All India Sarafa Association.

The precious metal of 99.9 per cent purity had surged by Rs 4,000 to touch an all-time high of Rs 1,37,600 per 10 grams on Monday. The metal rose by Rs 6,000 over the previous four days, trading at record highs. "Gold prices witnessed profit booking and remained volatile, with the yellow metal slipping towards the $ 4,275 level in global markets and staying under pressure," Jateen Trivedi, VP Research Analyst - Commodity and Currency, LKP Securities, said. Echoing sentiments, Dilip Parmar, Research Analyst, HDFC Securities, said, "Domestic gold prices also softened, curtailing a four-day advance. These losses were, however, notably mitigated by the persistent weakness in the Indian Rupee which quoted at a record low level".

In the local bullion markets, silver prices also depreciated by Rs 1,000 to Rs 1,98,500 per kilogram (inclusive of all taxes).

Better regulatory oversight, ease of compliance via reforms: FM

Says FDI limit in insurance sector was increased from 26% to 49% in 2015, 74% in 2021 and now to 100%

NEW DELHI: FINANCE Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Tuesday said the insurance reforms brought in through a bill in Parliament will grant greater access to insurance for the people, have better regulatory oversight and ensure ease of compliance. Moving the "The Sabka Bima Sabki Raksha (Amendment of Insurance Laws) Bill, 2025" for consideration of the Lok Sabha, Sitharaman said the draft legislation was aimed at bringing transparency, ease of compliance mandates and increasing foreign direct investment (FDI) in the sector.

The minister said that the FDI limit in the insurance sector was increased from 26 per cent to 49 per cent in 2015, 74 per cent in 2021 and now proposed to 100 per cent.

"These have brought in a greater push for the insurance sector. The number of insurers has risen from 53 in 2014 to 74 now," Sitharaman said. She said insurance penetration has improved from 3.3 per cent in 2014-15 to 3.8 per cent now and insurance density or the average insurance premium paid per person in a year has jumped from $55 in 2014 to $97 now.

The minister said the total insurance premium paid has risen from Rs 4.15 lakh crore in 2014-15 to Rs 11.93 lakh crore and assets under management increased from Rs 24.2 lakh crore to Rs 74.4 lakh crore. "We are now looking for greater penetration, better regulatory oversight, easier compliance and more FDI," Sitharaman said. The minister said over the year, an ecosystem has developed in the country for providing greater access for people to insurance.

Sitharaman said that various government schemes such as the PM Fasal Bima Yojana and the Jana Arogya Yojana have brought poor people under the insurance umbrella, a move that has helped immensely during the Covid pandemic.

GDP growth set to accelerate to 7.5% in FY27: Report

MUMBAI

INDIA'S economic growth is expected to pick up pace and remain strong in the coming years, with GDP likely to expand at 7.5 per cent in FY27, even as inflation stays under control, according to Axis Bank's Economic Outlook 2026 on Tuesday.

The report, authored by Neelkanth Mishra, Chief Economist at Axis Bank and Head of Global Research at Axis Capital, says India can grow faster than its long-term trend without triggering inflationary pressures.

This is because the economy still has enough unused capacity, or slack, which allows growth to rise smoothly. Axis Bank expects India to grow faster than most global peers and even above market expectations, making it the world's fastest-growing large economy.

The strong outlook is supported by easing pressure from government finances, lower borrowing costs, and supportive monetary policy.

The report also highlights that ongoing structural reforms and regulatory easing will help sustain growth over the medium term.

A key driver of this growth will be a fresh rise in investment activity. With company balance sheets in better shape, the cost of capital remaining low, and factories running at high capacity, businesses are likely to increase capital expenditure in FY27. This new investment cycle is expected to further strengthen economic momentum.

The bank's economists also see steady gains in productivity and a revival in capital formation, which together support a long-term trend growth rate of around 7 per cent.

Even with growth moving above this trend, inflation is expected to remain well behaved.

Axis Bank forecasts headline inflation at around 4 per cent in FY27. While food prices may see some rebound, underlying price pressures remain muted.

ITC gets nod to acquire Birla's Century pulp paper biz

NEW DELHI: Fair trade regulator CCI on Tuesday cleared conglomerate ITC Ltd's proposal to acquire the pulp and paper business of Aditya Birla Real Estate Ltd (ABREL) for Rs 3,498 crore. The development came after ABREL in March this year announced that its board has approved the execution of the business transfer agreement for the divestment of the pulp and paper undertaking situated in Lalkuan, Uttarakhand, by way of a slump sale to ITC. The Competition Commission of India (CCI) said it has approved the proposed deal. "Commission approves acquisition of paper and pulp manufacturing business of Aditya Birla Real Estate Limited by ITC Limited," the regulator said in a post on X.

Established in 1984 at Lalkuan (Nainital, Uttarakhand), pulp and paper undertaking Century Pulp and Paper (CPP) of ABREL is a well-established player in the Indian paper industry with an installed capacity of 4.8 lakh metric tonnes per annum. In March, ABREL said, "The transfer of the business will be for a lump-sum cash consideration of Rs 3,498 crore, to be paid by ITC to ABREL."

India's long-term outlook remains positive, indices to remain near all-time high in 2025

Valuations are stretched across large parts of the market, smaller stocks are under pressure, and investors are becoming increasingly selective about where they deploy capital

NEW DELHI: India's long-term outlook remains firmly positive, underpinned by favourable demographics, policy continuity, rapid urbanisation and sustained productivity gains, a report said on Tuesday. As 2025 draws to a close, Indian equity markets are sending mixed signals. Benchmark indices remain close to record highs, but beneath the surface, the picture is far more nuanced.

Smallcase Managers, in its report, said that valuations are stretched across large parts of the market, smaller stocks are under pressure, and investors are becoming increasingly selective about where they deploy capital. The managers noted that as US growth moderates and the Federal Reserve eventually pivots, interest-rate differentials should increasingly favour Emerging Markets, with India standing out as the most attractive destination.

Dhiren Shah, smallcase manager, Co-Founder, Kamayakya, said: "We remain bullish on Indian equities in 2026, with a clear focus on stock selection rather than index levels. While public capex has driven growth so far, the next phase will come from a revival in private capex as corporate balance sheets strengthen and capacity utilisation rises, setting up the next leg of India's structural growth."

India's macro backdrop remains constructive, aided by moderating inflation, the beginning of a rate-cut cycle and continued policy focus on manufacturing, infrastructure and exports. The report expects the economy to grow at a steady 6-7 per cent in real terms, with inflation anchored closer to 4 per cent, implying a phase of more stable, though slightly lower, nominal growth compared to the previous decade.

"Tariff-related noise from the US, particularly around a potential Trump return, is more of a sentiment and liquidity risk for India than a structural one. It can tighten global liquidity, lift volatility and lead to temporary FII outflows, but it does not change India's core growth story," said Vivek Sharma, smallcase manager, Investment Head, Estee Advisors.

Markets remain in red amid weak cues

Persistent foreign fund outflows, a weak rupee and sluggish global market trends dented investor sentiment

NEGATIVE MOMENTUM

- BSE Sensex fell 533.50pts (-0.63%) to 84,679.86

- FII's offloaded ₹1,468.32 cr; DII's bought ₹1,792.25 cr

MUMBAI: Benchmark Sensex tumbled 533.50 points and the broader Nifty declined to the 25,860 level on Tuesday as persistent foreign fund outflows, a weak rupee and sluggish global market trends dented investor sentiment.

The 30-share BSE Sensex tanked 533.50 points or 0.63 per cent to settle at 84,679.86. During the day, it dived 592.75 points or 0.69 per cent to 84,620.61. The 50-share NSE Nifty dropped 167.20 points or 0.64 per cent to a week's low of 25,860.10.

Among Sensex firms, Axis Bank tanked the most by 5.03 per cent. Eternal, HCL Tech, Bajaj Finserv, Tata Steel, UltraTech Cement and Bajaj Finance were also among the laggards. However, Titan, Bharti Airtel, Mahindra & Mahindra and Asian Paints were among the gainers.

"Continued INR weakness to fresh record lows, driven by persistent FII outflows and subdued global sentiments, dragged domestic markets into negative territory," Vinod Nair, Head of Research, Geojit Investments

Limited, said.

The rupee breached the record low level of 91 against the US dollar and hit 91.14 in intra-day trade due to foreign fund outflows on Tuesday. The BSE midcap gauge dropped 0.78 per cent, and the smallcap index dipped 0.69 per cent. Among sectoral indices, realty tanked 1.36 per cent, followed by bankex (1.03 per cent), commodities (0.91 per cent), IT (0.90 per cent), BSE Focused IT (0.86 per cent), financial services (0.83 per cent) and metal (0.82 per cent). Telecommunication and consumer durables were the only gainers. A total of 2,519 stocks declined while 1,651 advanced and 158 remained unchanged on the BSE.

"A risk-averse mood dominated trading as the rupee's breach of the 91 level against the US dollar raised macro concerns, while weakness across Asian markets added to global uncertainty. This combination prompted investors to reduce risk, triggering broad-based profit-booking, particularly across realty, financial services, metal and IT names," Ponmudi R, CEO of Enrich Money, an online trading and wealth tech firm, said.

Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) offloaded equities worth Rs 1,468.32 crore on Monday, while domestic institutional investors (DII's) bought stocks worth Rs 1,792.25 crore, according to exchange data. On Monday, the Sensex dipped 54.30 points or 0.06 per cent to settle at 85,213.36. The Nifty edged lower by 19.65 points or 0.08 per cent to 26,027.30.

It depicts four youngsters trapped by spirits, unable to escape from a college building, with the entry of a Jinn adding to the suspense. The makers manage to scare the audience right from the trailer itself. The visuals and background score are highly engaging and captivating. After the trailer launch, the speakers shared their thoughts:

Raj Kandukuri said:

success these days. Director Chinmay Ram has made this film very well. 'Jinn' will surely achieve good success."

Marella Manikantha said:

'Dhandoraa' Is a Wonderful Film That Combines All Kinds of Commercial Elements - Actor Sivaji

The film 'Dhandoraa' stars the iconic actor Sivaji in the lead role. Ravindra Banerjee Muppaneni, head of Loukya Entertainment—who has garnered attention for producing acclaimed films like 'Color Photo' and 'Bedurilanka 2012'—has produced 'Dhandoraa'. Along with Sivaji, actors Navadeep, Nandu, Ravi Krishna, Manika Chikkala, Mounika Reddy, Bindu Madhavi, Radhya, Aditi Bhavaraju, and others play important roles in the film. Directed by Muralikanth, the movie is set for a grand release on December 25. As part of the promotions, actor Sivaji interacted with the media. Here are some key excerpts from his interaction:

Have you heard the story of 'Dhandoraa' before 'Court'?

I first heard the story of 'Dhandoraa'. My role in it is very new. The makers of 'Dhandoraa' had given an advance earlier, but there was a delay in production. So 'Court' was released first.

What is your role going to be like in 'Dhandoraa'?

My role in 'Dhandoraa' will be different. Whether it is good or bad is something the audience will decide. They may not fully understand it immediately; after watching the film, the audience will have to tell me about my role.

Can 'Dhandoraa' be considered a completely message-based film?

'Dhandoraa' is not a completely message-oriented film. It is a film made by combining all kinds of commercial elements.

Since it comes after 'Court', there are expectations on 'Dhandoraa'. Will your role live up to them?

The response to my role as Mangapati in 'Court' is similar to the response I expect for my role in 'Dhandoraa'. Such roles come only if you are very lucky as an actor. I got a character with many different shades in this film.

Prostitutes were portrayed in films like 'Vedam' and 'Kancheepuramlo'. How are they portrayed in this film?

Bindu Madhavi's character in 'Dhandoraa' has been portrayed in a very classy manner. Everyone will connect with the film and its characters.

Do you feel new directors are using you more?

I mostly work with new directors. Our filmmakers are very calculative. Even though we have a lot of potential actors, they often bring actors from other languages.

Did you enjoy films like 'Missamma'? Do you enjoy films like 'Court' and 'Dhandoraa'?

I enjoyed all kinds of films such as 'Missamma', 'Shailaja Krishnamurthy', and 'Adirindayya Chandram'. I have always had confidence in myself as an actor. I can play all kinds of roles, from comedy to negative shades. Now, I feel the time has come for me.

TRAILER OF '45: THE MOVIE' UNVEILED

Popular music director Arjun Janya takes the director's chair for the first time with the much-awaited flick '45: The Movie', a project that promises scale, substance, and star power in equal measure. The film unites three formidable forces of Kannada cinema—Karunada Chakravarthy Shiva Rajkumar, Real Star Upendra, and the versatile Raj B Shetty—setting the stage for a cinematic collision unlike any other. Produced by Uma Ramesh Reddy and M. Ramesh Reddy under the Suraj Productions banner, '45: The Movie' has been crafted with a clear ambition to stand apart. From its striking promotional material to the intriguing snippets unveiled so far, the film has steadily built an air of mystery that has kept audiences talking. With anticipation peaking, the makers have now unveiled the theatrical trailer.

The opening frames introduce a powerful visual idea—a date of birth, a date of death, and the fleeting stretch between them. This stark imagery becomes the film's thematic backbone, suggesting that existence is not just about living, but about being accountable for every choice made within that narrow window of time. The trailer hints at a belief system where moral reckoning does not stop with death, giving the film an almost metaphysical undertone.

Bringing together Shiva Rajkumar, Upendra, and Raj B Shetty, '45: The Movie' blends contrasting personas into this moral framework. Upendra's resonant voiceover lends philosophical gravity, framing the narrative as a reflection on cause and consequence. Raj B Shetty appears rooted and vulnerable, representing the ordinary individual caught in forces larger than himself. Shiva Rajkumar's presence, particularly his unexpected appearance in a red Bharatanatyam costume, introduces a striking sense of duality and transformation.

The cinematography by Satya Hegde stands out, while Arjun Janya's pulsating score amplifies the experience. The production values are exceptional, and the film features high-intensity action sequences choreographed by leading stunt masters Dr K Ravi Verma, Jolly Bastian, and Differnet Danny Chetan D'Souza. Dialogues are written by Anil Kumar, and editing is handled by K M Prakash.

With the trailer setting the bar high, '45: The Movie' is gearing up for a grand release in five languages on January 1, ushering in the New Year with a bang.

'Missterious' climax will be memorable - Director Mahi Komati Reddy

The movie 'Missterious' stars Rohit as the hero and Abid Bhushan in a police role, alongside actresses Riya Kapoor and Meghna Rajputh. Directed by Mahi Komati Reddy and produced by Jay Vallandas under the Ashlee Creations banner, the film is gearing up for a grand worldwide theatrical release on the 19th of this month. On this occasion, director Mahi Komati Reddy shared several key highlights of the movie in an interview today.

Director Mahi Komati Reddy said in the interview:

"Our film, 'Missterious', is not a regular-format movie like others; we have crafted it around a distinct point. The film includes elements of crime, love, and crush, along with strong thrilling aspects. The audience will definitely be entertained, as such thrilling elements have not been shown in any film so far. The suspense surrounding who the killer is will continue until the very end of the film. The climax episode will be a blend of suspense and thrill, featuring an unexpected twist that no one can predict. After the movie ends, everyone will surely be talking about that climax."

When it comes to thriller movies, songs are not usually highly expected. However, we have included three songs based on the story's requirements, and all of them fit perfectly. They add a good kick and ensure the audience does not feel like they are only watching a crime film. Our music director, M.L. Raja, has provided chartbuster music for these songs.

Overall, 'Missterious' is a mix of crime, crush, love, thrill, suspense, songs, and fight scenes. The audience will come to the theatre, enjoy all these elements, and leave entertained. Especially, the climax episode will be unforgettable.

So far, the promotional content for 'Missterious' has received very good feedback. We produced the film wonderfully with the support of our friend and producer, Jay Vallandas. Initially, we planned to release the movie on the 12th of this month, but due to the release of Akhanda 2, we decided to bring it to audiences a week later, on the 19th."
