CM hails RDT's service to 25 lakh underprivileged people

HANS NEWS SERVICE VIJAYAWADA

CHIEF Minister N Chandrababu Naidu and minister for IT and HRD Nara Lokesh on Thursday paid rich tributes to Vicente Ferrer Moncho, founder of the Rural Development Trust (RDT), on the occasion of his birth anniversary, recalling his immense contribution to the upliftment of the poor in the Telugu states.

In a message posted on X, the Chief Minister praised the RDT for its extensive developmental and humanitarian work, benefiting nearly 25 lakh underprivileged and backward-class people across Andhra Pradesh and Telangana. He urged people to draw inspiration from Ferrer, who came from Spain and dedicated his life to the welfare of the Rayalaseema region, earning deep respect among the people. Nara Lokesh, in his tribute, described Ferrer as a "God-given gift" to the poor and lauded his lifelong commitment to social service.

He noted that Ferrer established the Rural Development Trust decades ago and transformed it into a pillar of support for marginalized communities.

Highlighting RDT's contributions, Lokesh said the organization played a key role in building hospitals, educational institutions, housing for the poor, self-help groups, and sports infrastructure, thereby driving inclusive development in the region.

As a mark of tribute this year, Lokesh announced that the government has secured FCRA clearance for the RDT, ensuring that its services continue uninterrupted and reach those in need.

- Recalls YSR's historic padayatra, highlights his pro-poor, secular legacy
- Accuses Jagan of straying from those values, aligning with BJP and capitalist forces

ANDHRA Pradesh Congress Committee (APCC) president Y S Sharmila on Wednesday strongly countered YSRCP chief Y S Jagan Mohan Reddy through a post on Twitter, questioning his commitment to the ideals of their father, former chief minister YS Rajasekhara Reddy.

Marking April 9, Sharmila recalled that it was on this day 23 years ago that Dr YSR began his historic padayatra in the undivided Andhra Pradesh, aimed at the welfare of the poor and marginalised sections. She noted that he undertook the march as a Congress leader and later led the party to power, earning a permanent place in the hearts of the people. Taking a sharp dig, she questioned Jagan Mohan Reddy's current political stance, asking how he, as YSR's son and a leader carrying his father's name in the party, is upholding those values. She accused him of compromising with "fascist forces" and aligning with capitalist tendencies, which she said stood in stark contrast to YSR's pro-poor governance. Sharmila further said that YSR was a staunch secular leader who worked for unity among all communities, while alleging that Jagan was now bowing to the BJP out of political compulsion and fear of criminal cases. She criticised what she described as silence on issues affecting Dalits, minorities, and other weaker sections, including matters related to Waqf laws, Dalit Christian reservations, FCRA regulations, and "bulldozer politics."

She also raised concerns over alleged incidents of atrocities on Dalits, women, and minorities during Jagan's tenure, stating that such developments would have deeply disturbed YSR.

Calling Jagan's tributes to YSR "ironic," Sharmila remarked that instead of undertaking a Padayatra, he should embark on a journey of introspection ("Atma Vimaršana Yatra") to reflect on his governance and political choices.

Protests erupt at private hospital after patient's death

- Family alleges medical negligence after 69-year-old man dies post-surgery
- Relatives claim junior doctors operated without senior supervision, sparking outrage
- Police intervene as protests demand hospital closure and criminal cases against staff

Family members of the deceased stage a protest in front of KIMS hospital in Kurnool on Thursday

A tense situation prevailed outside KIMS hospital in the city on Thursday following the death of a 69-year-old man, identified as A. Venkata Ramana Reddy, a resident of Uppalapadu village in Orvakal mandal. The deceased had reportedly undergone a surgical procedure at the hospital, after which he was declared dead, triggering protests by his family members and relatives.

The grieving family has alleged that medical negligence led to his death. They claimed that the treatment provided resembled scenes from the Telugu film Tagore, accusing the hospital of unethical practices. According to the relatives, the surgery was conducted in the absence of a senior doctor, allegedly by junior doctors, and there is no clarity on who actually performed the operation.

Family members questioned how the patient could die within minutes of doctors declaring the operation successful. They expressed the suspicion over the sequence of events, stating that the patient was taken into the operation theatre and returned lifeless shortly thereafter. The relatives alleged that the hospital attempted to mislead them by claiming the surgery was successful despite the patient already being in a critical condition.

Demanding accountability, the family staged a protest in front of the KIMS hospital, insisting on a clear explanation from the management. They called for the immediate closure of the hospital and registration of criminal cases against those responsible. With a large number of relatives gathering at the premises and raising slogans, the situation turned tense, prompting concerns over law and order in the area.

Police rushed to the spot and took stock of the situations. On the assurance given by the police personnel to file a case on the authorities responsible, the victim family members gave up the protest.

Dy CM launches drinking water project virtually

HANS NEWS SERVICE RAJAMAHENDRAVARAM

"TRUE development is achieved not merely through construction activities but by improving basic infrastructure and bringing meaningful change in people's lives", Deputy Chief Minister Konidela Pawan Kalyan said on Thursday. He stressed the need to instil confidence and provide security for the future of citizens. He was speaking while virtually inaugurating and laying foundation stones for several development works in the Razole constituency. A major drinking water project constructed at a cost of Rs 17.33 crore at Antarvedi was inaugurated on the occasion. He also laid the foundation stone for rapid sand filter units with a capacity of 6 million litres, being taken up with Rs 5 crore from ONGC funds.

Pawan Kalyan stated that the newly launched drinking water scheme under the Jal Jeevan Mission would benefit around 30,000 people in 13 villages. As part of the project, a 10-acre pond has been developed along with a water treatment plant having a capacity of 3 million litres and an overhead tank. Water will be pumped from the Gannavaram canal and stored in the pond for supply.

He noted that earlier, drinking water had to be supplied from Antarvedipalem, located about 12 kilometres away, and had to pass through nearly 50 villages, leading to severe shortages. He said the long-standing drinking water problems faced by the region for nearly three decades would now be resolved. The Deputy Chief Minister further said that once the rapid sand filter units at Gudimellanka are completed with ONGC CSR funds, safe drinking water would be supplied to nearly 1.2 lakh people across 23 villages.

Astrologer claims his prediction on war correct

HANS NEWS SERVICE RAJAMAHENDRAVARAM

DR KV Reddy, director of KVR Energy Healing Centre and a famous astrologer, has claimed that his earlier prediction on tensions involving the United States, Israel and Iran has come true. Speaking to the media on Thursday, he said he had published a detailed article on March 3 explaining the astrological factors that could lead to a conflict in the Gulf region and its possible future course. He attributed the outbreak of tensions to the movement of Mars through Makara and Kumbha Rasis, which he said represent desert nations.

Reddy stated that the intensity of the conflict increased during the transit of Mars in Kumbha Rasi. He recalled that he had also indicated a gradual decline in tensions after April 2, when Mars entered Meena Rasi. However, he noted that due to the continued presence of Rahu in Kumbha Rasi, sporadic hostilities between Israel and Lebanon may persist for some more time.

He said that with over 35 years of experience in Vastu and astrology, several of his earlier predictions related to regional and national developments and political predictions had proved accurate. Reddy stated that the geopolitical situation in the region continues to remain complex. He said that as the eastern side of Israel consists of occupied territory, tensions have persisted for a long time and the conflict is likely to continue further. He also expressed the view that clashes and intermittent firing between Israel and Lebanon may continue for some more time.

RAPE ACCUSED ARRESTED

HANS NEWS SERVICE NARASARAOPET

MACHERLA Town Police have arrested the accused in the 23-year-old woman's rape case that occurred in the limits of Macherla Town Police Station on April 2. The police arrested the accused on Wednesday and produced him in the court on Thursday. During investigation, it was found that the accused Namala Srinivas had initially contacted the victim through a social messaging app and later developed a close relationship via Instagram. It was found that the victim had invited him to her house and guided him to the location. Initially, due to fear, the victim did not disclose the complete facts. SP Krishna Rao appreciated the officers and staff involved in solving the case. Palnadu district police reiterated that utmost priority is given to the safety and security of women and children. Crimes against women and minors will not be tolerated, and strict action will be taken against offenders, he said.
