CHIEF Minister A Revanth Reddy on Wednesday called upon government employees to adopt a people-centric approach and ensure that poor people approaching the administration in distress receive timely assistance and a fair hearing.

Inaugurating the newly constructed Integrated District Offices Complex (Collectorate) in Karimnagar, built at a cost of Rs 51 crore, he said the facility should instill confidence among the people seeking government assistance. Officials should treat public grievances as they would those of their own family members and make every effort to resolve them, he said.

Revanth Reddy, along with Union Minister of State for Home Affairs Bandi Sanjay Kumar and state Ministers and TPCC president Mahesh Kumar Goud and senior officials, inaugurated the complex and unveiled the Telangana Talli statue.

The Chief Minister laid foundation stones for three Telangana Public Schools at Rs 29.62 crore, Karimnagar Corporation development works worth Rs 840 crore under the Urban Challenge Fund, stormwater drainage works costing Rs 21.60 crore under KSCCL special grants and a multi-level car parking facility at Tower Circle at Rs

25 crore. He also inaugurated the Central Library built at Rs 5.70 crore, the integrated vegetable and non-vegetable market at Kashmiri Gadda at Rs 6.50 crore, and the Integrated Command Control Centre and DRF offices constructed at Rs 16.50 crore. Revanth Reddy later visited the Collector's chamber and formally installed Collector Chitra Mishra in her chair amid Vedic chants and interfaith prayers. He also inspected the special chamber arranged for the district in-charge minister.

Addressing officials and public representatives, the Chief Minister said around 10.5 lakh permanent, contract and outsourcing employees were serving nearly four crore people in Telangana.

Their role was crucial in translating government decisions, schemes, funds and approvals into services for citizens, he said.

He said employees' concerns relating to salaries, retirement benefits, promotions, transfers and health security cards were being addressed in phases and urged them to continue discharging their responsibilities towards the public.

Revanth Reddy said ideological differences should not come in the way of development and thanked Bandi Sanjay for his cooperation in Karimnagar's progress. He announced that he would return to the district for a comprehensive review of development, welfare and irrigation projects.

Urban development, curriculum debate takes centre stage in Karimnagar

- Bandi Sanjay Kumar says Rs 840 crore worth of projects under the Urban Challenge Fund are being implemented in Karimnagar
- Inaugurates several infrastructure projects, including a Central Library, Integrated Command Control Centre, DRF building and Integrated Market
- Questions whether references to Article 370, the Ram temple-Babri Masjid dispute, surgical strikes, Nizam's rule and the Razakars would be altered or removed jay said projects worth Rs 840 crore were being taken up under the Urban Challenge Fund, covering waste management, dumping-yard remediation, riverfront development, transport, drainage and flood mitigation.

He said a Central Library built for Rs 5.70 crore under the Smart City Mission, an Integrated Command Control Centre and DRF building costing Rs 16.50 crore, and an Integrated Market at Kashmiri Gadda worth Rs 6.50 crore had been inaugurated. Foundation stones were also laid for Rs 21-crore stormwater drainage works, while a Rs 25-crore multi-level parking facility was taken up at Tower Circle. On curriculum changes, he questioned whether references to Article 370, the Ram temple-Babri Masjid dispute, surgical strikes, the armed forces, Nizam's rule and the Razakars would be altered or removed. He said Union Home Minister Amit Shah would visit Karimnagar on October 4.

Drought-hit tanks threaten Telangana fish seed scheme

Low water levels in Nizamabad's irrigation tanks raise concerns over fingerling survival and put 16,900 fishing-dependent livelihoods at risk

HANS NEWS SERVICE
NIZAMABAD

TELANGANA'S annual fish seed distribution programme is facing uncertainty in Nizamabad district as declining water levels in irrigation tanks threaten the survival of fingerlings. The state spends around Rs 4 crore to Rs 4.20 crore annually to release nearly four crore fish seed into local water bodies. However, Irrigation Department data shows that many of the district's 1,007 designated tanks have inadequate storage. Around 50 tanks have less than 25 per cent water, while 245 have between 25 and 50 per cent. Another 334 tanks hold between 50 and 75 per cent capacity.

Under Fisheries Department norms, seed stocking is permitted only in water bodies with at least 40 per cent water depth. Fishermen fear that releasing fingerlings into depleted tanks could result in high mortality and financial losses.

The fishing community has urged officials to physically inspect shortlisted tanks before distribution and match seed allocation with actual water availability.

Ensure all eligible persons receive ration and nutritious food

Food Commission Chairman Goli Srinivas Reddy directs officials to strengthen implementation of food security schemes

ADILABAD

TELANGANA State Food Commission Chairman Goli Srinivas Reddy has directed officials to ensure strict implementation of the National Food Security Act, 2013, and that all eligible people receive ration and nutritious food. He issued the directions at a review meeting at the Collectorate Conference Hall on Wednesday during his two-day field visit to Adilabad.

Srinivas Reddy called for clear display boards at Anganwadi centres, welfare hostels and ration shops, carrying officials' details, complaint procedures and toll-free numbers.

He also flagged shortcomings in meal timings, menu implementation, kitchen hygiene and supervision at some tribal welfare residential schools and hostels. Commission member Oraganti Anand said pregnant and lactating women must receive nutritious food and medical care, while children should get Balamrut, milk and eggs through Anganwadis.

Collector Rajarshi Shah said 4,500 metric tonnes of rice are distributed monthly through 2,566 ration shops to 2,27,477 ration cards covering 7,44,404 beneficiaries.

Farmers' welfare is Congress government's priority: MLA KR Nagaraju

MLA urges new PACS leadership to ensure timely loans, agricultural services and support to farmers

HANUMAKONDA

VARDHANAPET MLA and retired IPS officer KR Nagaraju said that the welfare of farmers remains a key priority of the Congress government. He was the chief guest at the PACS general meeting held in Hasanparthi, Hanumakonda district, on Wednesday.

During the meeting, Nagaraju felicitated newly appointed PACS chairman Pingali Venkata Reddy and other new governing body members with shawls and congratulated them.

Speaking on the occasion, the MLA said the government was taking steps to provide farmers with quality seeds, fertilizers, irrigation water and facilities for crop procurement. He said measures were also being taken to support farmers amid changing weather conditions. Nagaraju urged farmers not to be misled by misinformation and appealed to the new PACS leadership to work for their welfare. He said PACS play a crucial role in providing timely agricultural loans and essential services and called upon the new members to regularly identify and address farmers' problems.

Kadiyam Srihari reviews progress of Gandhi Ramaram irrigation works

- Station Ghanpur MLA directs officials to complete the pending Lift-1 works within two months
- Sets November deadline for pipeline completion and December for the trial run
- Stresses departmental coordination and asks officials to explore the Gauravelli canal option for uncovered villages

HANUMAKONDA

STATION Ghanpur MLA Kadiyam Srihari has directed officials to ensure that Lift-1 of the Gandhi Ramaram Lift Irrigation Scheme is commissioned in January to provide irrigation water for the second crop to farmers in Chilpur and Veleru mandals.

Inspecting the pump house construction at Lingampalli village in Chilpur mandal on Wednesday, Srihari said 70 per cent of the Lift-1 works had been completed and the remaining works must be finished within two months.

He directed officials to complete all civil, electrical, mechanical and motor-related works at the pump house within a month. Pipeline works should be completed by the end of November, followed by a trial run in December, he said. The Rs104-crore project comprises three lifts aimed at irrigating high-altitude areas. Srihari expressed concern over delays and lack of coordination among departments, saying farmers should not suffer because of administrative issues.

He asked the Chief Engineer of the Irrigation Department to coordinate with all departments and contractors and expedite the works. He also directed officials to explore supplying water to uncovered villages through the Gauravelli flood canal.

Four Telangana youths trapped at Russian military camp

HANS NEWS SERVICE
NIZAMABAD

FOUR youths from the erstwhile Nizamabad and Kamareddy districts of Telangana are reportedly stranded at a Russian military camp after allegedly being lured

Families allege job fraud, forced military training; seek government intervention abroad with promises of civilian jobs, their families said.

Bhukya Ravinder, Bhukya Ashok, Megavath Prakash and Mohammad Afzal Khan travelled to Russia after recruiters promised jobs as helpers, cleaners, security guards and support staff. The families alleged that each youth paid agents Rs 3 lakh before being taken to a forest area, where they were reportedly handed guns and subjected to military training. A video message from one of the youths allegedly showed him claiming that they were restrained when they attempted to leave. The families fear the four could be deployed near the Russia-

Ukraine war zone. They submitted a representation to CM Pravas Prajapati in Hyderabad seeking urgent intervention. Officials said the matter would be coordinated with the NRI department, Ministry of External Affairs and the Indian Embassy in Moscow.
